

IMPACT Solutions Work Life Seminar

Generations at Work

In today's competitive workforce, there are four distinct generations working alongside each other – all with their own bias and preferences for working which often leads to miscommunication and other workplace conflicts. What are the “do’s and don’ts” associated with each generation in order to maximize results and enhance workplace relationships? In this presentation, we will learn about each generation’s (Veterans, Baby Boomers, Generation X and Millennials) common experiences, traits and preferred communication styles.
